

ST PAUL'S KNIGHTSBRIDGE

3 February 2013: Candlemas

Let there be light...

In a world of wintery darkness, what is more powerful than light? And what better metaphor for the transformation of all things by God in the coming of Jesus Christ in the Incarnation than to speak of the world having been enlightened and to see him as the 'Light of the world'. Today our keeping of Candlemas – all ablaze with light – marks the fulfilment of the seasons of Christmas and Epiphany, and in our liturgy we recall the words of old Simeon who proclaimed the infant child to be a light to lighten the Gentiles. As if to reflect the Church's theme, the first 'must-see' show of the new year (according, at least, to the Evening Standard!) has opened this week at the Hayward Gallery on London's South Bank – and it is all about light!

Light Show explores the experiential and phenomenal aspects of light by bringing together sculptures and installations that use light to sculpt and shape space in different ways. The exhibition showcases artworks created from the 1960s to the present day, including immersive environments, free-standing light sculptures and projections. From atmospheric installations to intangible sculptures that you can move around and even through, the visitor can experience light in all of its spatial and sensory forms. Individual artworks explore different aspects of light such as colour, duration, intensity and projection, as well as perceptual phenomena. They also use light to address architecture, science and film, and do so using a variety of lighting technologies.

"Light" – say the organisers in the show's 'blurb' – "has the power to affect our state of mind as well as alter how we perceive the world around us". How right they are! Christ's Light has completely transformed the way we see and live – and for this we thank God!

Why not – in thanksgiving for the season now ending – visit 'Light Show' at the Hayward Gallery – and, dazzled by mankind's ingenuity, dare to be even more dazzled by the mystery of our redemption in Christ, our Light, our Hope and our Salvation?
