

5 MAY 2013: EASTER 6

JUNE RETREAT

Please keep Monday 10th – Thursday 13th June 2013 free and plan to join us in Albi in the South of France for our annual parish retreat.

Beware the wrath of the church organist

We are richly blessed by the quality of our music at St Paul's, and by the professionalism of our musicians....

They are the stalwart pillars of the community whose week-in, week-out dedication has kept the country's choral traditions alive for generations. But, if new research is be believed, behind the quiet exterior the humble church organist is not someone to be crossed.

While charged with providing spiritually uplifting music to worshippers, it seems many also seize the opportunity to extract subtle revenge on clerics who have displeased them or simply play pranks on congregations. A survey of churchgoers found that at least half have noticed their organist straying from the path of musical orthodoxy at some point — slipping snippets of heavy metal classics, advertising jingles and even nursery rhymes into hymns and anthems.

In some cases it can be a means of waging musical war with clerics while in others it is simply an effort by bored organists to make the choir laugh.

Christian Research, a polling and research group asked its 2,000 strong "Resonate" panel of churchgoers for their views on church music and organists. Of those who responded, half said they had noticed an organist slipping unexpected tunes into services.

Among examples cites was that of the organist in Scotland who had fallen out with some of the elders in the Kirk but got his own back by inserting a thinly disguised rendition of "Send in the Clowns" as they processed in for a Sunday service. Elsewhere, a vicar sacked an organist after he played "Roll out the Barrel" at the funeral of a man known to have been fond of a drink.

In one decidedly high church congregation, an organist punctured the mood of reverence as an elaborately dressed clergyman processed back after the gospel reading – by playing the theme tune to The Simpsons.

Another congregation found themselves passing around the collection plate to the strains of "Money, Money, Money" by Abba... One organist who responded confessed to playing hits by Oasis, Billy Bragg and even Kylie Minogue in services but added: "Nobody notices – I do it all the time."

But when an organist played a slowed-down version of Supercalifragilistic expialidocio us from Mary Poppins, even the most tone deaf members of the congregation eventually recognised, sending them into gales of laughter.

An older bridegroom took it in good humour when the organist played "No one loves a fairy when she's 40" at his wedding" while candidates at a confirmation service were left perplexed to hear the strains of "I'm a Little Teapot" from the organ loft.

Stephen Goddard, of Christian Research, said: "It's an oft-repeated adage in church circles – 'What's the difference between an organist and a terrorist? -you can negotiate with a terrorist'.

"Hidden from view, your local church organist may appear unassuming and self-deprecating, but like any true artist, he or she can be eccentric, mischievous and very opinionated.

"Mess with him at your peril – he will pull out all the stops to get his own back."

If you are visiting us this Sunday morning, welcome! If you are here from another church, please let us know. All who are in good standing with their own churches of whatever tradition and who are regular communicants are welcome to receive the sacrament at the altar today. Afterwards, we hope you will join us for refreshments – and if you will, pause to fill in a Visitor's Card: we will be glad to add you to our mailing list and to make contact if that is what you'd like. And if you simply wish to visit and slip away, that is fine too!

WITH BURNING HEARTS: WEDNESDAY EVENINGS IN EASTERTIDE

'WITH BURNING HEARTS: Looking at the story of the Road to Emmaus.'

is based on the book of the name by the renowned writer on the spiritual life, Henri Nouwen who died in 1996. The final session of this Eastertide study series of Wednesday evening discussions takes place after the evening mass at 6.45pm this week. The basis of the course has been the wonderful and significant story of the meeting of the risen Christ on the road to Emmaus and the subsequent supper at Emmaus. Nouwen offers an insightful understanding of the Eucharist and the part that the story and the Eucharist have to play in the lives of modern Christian pilgrims. From mourning to discernment, from invitation to intimacy, and from community to the charge to go forth and witness, With Burning Hearts calls us to experience all of this journey, to know that what we celebrate and what we are called to live are one and the same."

The plan:

- April 10 | Mourning Our Losses
- April 17 II Discerning the Presence
- April24 III Inviting the Stranger
- May 1 IV Entering into Communion

• May 8 V Going on Mission

Copies of the Nouwen book available at £12 each (including delivery charges), please see Fr Andrew if you would like one.
